This is a really nice example of the Oceanis 390. They were such an amazing boats when first designed. A hull form which is still considered modern. Totally at home in downwind cruising, but equally capable of going to windward. Several epic ocean crossings have been achieved with the 390. Jailbreak has been well cared for. She has new rigging, upgraded covers, and a clean interior. The teak timber finish below is still in good condition. The favoured 3 cabin layout with two heads makes her perfect form a family yacht. The Perkins Prima is a really good engine. We would very much recommend this boat . At around 105K she stands strong with all the competition.
