The Lagoon 560 is widely regarded as one of the best large production cruising catamarans. It has proven itself as a capable and comfortable offshore cruiser, while still being designed for a couple to sail and manage with ease.

Exile is one of the last Lagoon 560s built and benefits from many of the refinements made throughout the production run. She has been well cared for by experienced owners who have maintained her to a very high standard. Having crossed major oceans on three different boats, the current owners have equipped Exile with practical upgrades that make long-distance cruising safer and more enjoyable. These include a hardtop bimini, hydraulic tender lift, passerelle, solar and lithium power system, along with a range of other thoughtful additions.
